10 Steps to Success Checklist for WLD in Schools 2021

Download and share the World Labyrinth Day in Schools Flyer with students and teachers.

Consider your local circumstances and decide if you will organise or take part in an event.

Register your WLD in Schools event here.

Begin planning: think about the what and the how. The resources options we have prepared can readily be adapted and/or shared digitally with students. If outdoor or indoor labyrinths could compromise social distancing regulations in your area, finger labyrinths are a great alternative..

- Have students experienced labyrinths previously or will this be a new experience for them?
  - What kinds of materials will you need to provide in either scenario?
  - How will you deliver this if the students are not in the same physical space?
  - What kinds of digital tools might you need to employ?
  - Who could you collaborate with: a planning team or a buddy class perhaps?

Browse the Resources on the ALN website. There is so much material: drawing and making labyrinths, finger labyrinths, templates, walking and using labyrinths, and specific resources for staff and class use. Alternatively, go direct to our WLDS 2021 Activities Guide, Paths of Peace to find

- Inner Peace activities
- Waves of Peace activities and the Teacher Notes. Powerpoint slides, A Short Introduction to Labyrinths, are also provided.

Generate interest with fellow educators by posting and sharing your ideas and plans on Australian Labyrinth Network – Labyrinths in Educational Settings Group Facebook page

Contact local media and/or community radio for coverage. Offer articles and pictures. Be prepared to have a clear, simple answer to the question: what is a labyrinth? A suggested media release text can be found with the 2021 resources.

Create and share a slideshow of your students' work to bring connectedness across your school community.

Upload images of student labyrinths and messages to create a global peace path.

Email Louise Mason lmouiselrm@gmail.com if you have questions or for further support.

See you on the Path!
